

Colonel Present at NASA Project

Colonel D. A. Ramsey, chief of the National Aero-Space Administration, Test Facility, is in the process of re-examination of appraisal procedures and values for the area to be acquired in the future.

Colonel Ramsey, who is the overall supervisor of the acquisition program, stated that the result of the examination will be completed shortly, and the study will provide the Corps with the best available data so that the major appraisal program within the area may be undertaken at the earliest opportunity.

The Property Owners Committee was also informed that the Corps of Engineers has notified a word concerning the possibility of granting a 60-day extension to the owners in the fee area.

While easement values are being re-examined, all appraisals within the fee area are substantially complete. O. B. Moore, Chief of the real estate project office in Bay St. Louis, reports that negotiations on these properties are well underway and must be completed within a few weeks.

AIR FORCE GROUND OPERATIONS SCHOOL TO BE MOVED

BILOXI, MISS. - The United States Air Force Ground Operations School at Keesler AFB, Miss., celebrated its 11th birthday June 18th, the sixth and final to be observed at the Mississippi installation.

The school, aptly described as the "Home of the Air Force's Combat Operations Course," has been projected to move from Keesler during the latter part of this year and take up residence at the new Ft. Walton Beach FEAAGS near Ft. Walton.

The USAFAGS has a long and illustrious career, teaching the rudiments and refinements of the art of joint operations in theatres of combat operations during its more than a decade of operation. It has graduated more than 31,000 students ranging in grade from second Lieutenant to Lt. General.

Brigadier General James O. Guthrie, Commandant of the school for the past three years, sums up the teaching of the school as follows:

"The school's purpose is to provide the student with a comprehensive understanding of the methods of operations of the various services in other theatres of the service," asserted General Guthrie. "Tactical officers who attend our combat operations courses acquire a better overall picture of the complexities involved in a joint use of joint forces."

He added, "We of AGOS feel that attendance at a Combat Operations Course here at the school is almost a must to keep tactical officers abreast of the many changes in the doctrine, concepts, policies and techniques of joint combat operations."

Originally established at Southern Pines, N. C., June 18, 1951, the school was moved to Keesler in February 1957 shortly after a million dollar fire had leveled its facilities at Southern Pines.

SLIGHT DELAY IN RE-RECORDING LIVE STOCK BRANDS

Livestock brand owners in the state may experience a slight delay in receiving their re-recorded brands due to the heavy volume of mail, according to Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol Livestock Brands Supervisor B. F. Rodgers. Since there are about 5,000 active brands registered in the state and since they all expire at the same time, there is a large volume of necessary written work involved.

Almost half of them have been re-recorded and the work of re-recording the remainder is in full swing.

Livestock brands recorded at the present time will expire June 30, 1967. Brands Supervisor Rodgers noted that, "If any brand owner wants to keep his present brand we recommend that he be sure to re-record immediately."

If a brand is not re-recorded then it falls to the exclusive property of the brand owner. It is illegal to use an unrecorded brand. If you are using a brand and do not have it on record at our headquarters then be sure to write for information to Brands Supervisor, Livestock, Theft, Bureau, Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol, Box 968, Jackson, Mississippi.

Dancers from the Bay-Waveland area have been invited to participate in a Dance recital scheduled to take place on the campus of the Junior University of New Orleans next Friday, June 29, 1962, 8 p. m. JUNO, as the university is called, is located at 5100 Gen. Meyer Ave. on the west bank of the Mississippi River, directly opposite Aurora Gardens.

It is quite an honor for the pupils of Piccola's School of Dancing (Waveland) to be invited as the university is recognized as an outstanding school where children learn typing, foreign languages and the sciences from the lowest grades up.

Some of the children who have been asked to dance are Charles Johnson, Bobbie Fayard, Candy Ladner, Leja Rutherford, Shelly Lafontaine, Mildred Baum and Sandra Ladner.

SAFEGUARDING BASIC RESOURCES OF STATE

Soil conservation progress in Mississippi has been notable in recent years, and thanks to the conservation efforts of public and private leadership, erosion is being effectively combated.

Conservation, management of grasslands, flood control, and careful agricultural standards have combined to save more and more of our soil. Thus the importance of soil-saving as a continuing objective is worth special attention.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES

As Mississippi grows and develops, its needs for expanded educational facilities and opportunities grow too.

Colleges, both public and private, are striving to meet this challenge. With the expansion of industry, the growth of the middle class in Mississippi, the rapid advance in medicine, there is a need to keep abreast of the best.

A 15-year-old youth was fatally injured Monday afternoon while swimming in the waters near Holy Cross Brothers summer home in Waveland.

Hancock County Coroner Emile Piazza said Alphonso Priani Garcia, son of Francisco Garcia Jimeno, Attorney for the Mexican Government, who was attending summer camp at Holy Cross, died about 3:55 p. m. Monday, June 25 from an accident sustained while swimming.

The coroner's jury, on the basis of an extensive medical examination ruled the cause of death as "a penetrating wound of the chest extending into and through the left ventricle of the heart," and classified the death as accidental Piazza said.

Members of the jury were G. V. Price Jr., Alvah Ruhl, Nelius Rhodes Sr., Fred Bourgeois, David Godwin, J. T. Jacobs and G. V. Price Sr., bailiff.

Piazza stated a thorough investigation and search of the water where the boy was swimming, failed to reveal any object that could have caused the accident. The wound, he added, could have been caused by the fin of a large fish or a sting ray.

Piazza said the boy was injured when he jumped or dived from the bow of a small boat into about three feet of water.

Rosary services were held at Fahey-Whitfield Funeral Home at 8 p. m. Tuesday, and the body was taken by Fahey-Whitfield Funeral Service Wednesday morning to Moisant International Airport and flown to Mexico City for burial today.

Direct Distance Dialing Here August 12

As man once said, "Build a mantrap and the world will come to your doorstep." When Bell has that "better" with a twist - it will be a path to the world's doorstep.

August 12, 1962 telephone users in Bay St. Louis will be with the country at their own. Direct long-distance calls will be here.

The system is limited to station calls at present, officials have intimated that it will be extended to cover a person to person calls.

It has been less than a century since Bell discovered the human voice could be carried over wires. Since then, man has evolved a system of immediate and direct communications with all parts of the world.

The concept of direct dialing is not new in essence. The remarkable fact is that man has had the ingenuity and foresight to make the concept realistic and workable.

The next step in the development of direct dialing is the extension of the system to cover all parts of the world.

The adults of our community held a special meeting at our Clermont Harbor Lake Shore Youth Center last Friday night. The reason of the meeting was to try and encourage more parents to take interest in their teen agers. It seems as though not too many are interested in us, for two weeks ago our youth center was closed down because of no chaperons.

For the last year and a half we have had but a few different parents chaperoning, as a result the responsibility has been thrown upon the same ones every week. These chaperones are still willing, but they feel that every parent should feel as much responsibility toward their teen agers as they do. So they are urging every parent to take interest in their teen agers before it is too late. Any parent willing to chaperone on either Wednesday or Saturday nights from 7 to 11 (I'm sure you could sacrifice four hours of your time for the pleasure of us teen agers) please phone Mrs. Louis Garcia at HO-7-4217.

Public to Build Salk Institute

Through their contributions to the Salk Institute Building Fund, the American people—who formed a partnership with science to bring about the Salk polio vaccine—will again share in a great scientific venture to help man make the best of his gift of life.

When there is a job to be done—whether it's a war to be won or a disease to be conquered—the American people have an amazing way of marshaling their efforts to produce maximum results in minimum time.

Such an effort is under way this month in the nationwide campaign—June 1 through 15—for public support for the construction of the Salk Institute for Biological Studies.

Millions of posters in public places, mailers in home letter boxes, coin collectors and campaigners on counters everywhere proclaim, "You Can Build the Salk Institute for Biological Studies—For Life, Health and Humanity."

Youngsters who, as "Polio Pioneers" helped prove the effectiveness of the vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk, are expressing their gratitude for their protection from crippling polio with contributions in school envelopes.

People everywhere are proudly wearing tiny microscopes in their lapels, symbolic of their gifts to provide building blocks for a great new laboratory of life.

Millions of Americans, who won a great victory over one dread disease—paralytic polio—in partnership with Dr. Salk and other scientists, welcome this opportunity to become shareholders in a new scientific venture which promises even greater benefits for them—and for their children.

As he worked on the polio vaccine, Dr. Salk became more and more aware of the need for a better way to gain greater scientific understanding of the basic processes of life and their relation to health and disease. In talking with men of science all over the world, he found that others shared his recognition of the need for a place where scientists could work together seeking answers to basic biological questions from many viewpoints, with fullest latitude for research, discussion and exchange of ideas.

Dr. Salk's planning will culminate in 1963 with the opening of the Salk Institute for Biological Studies which he will direct in San Diego, Calif. The land has been given by vote of the people of San Diego. The entire nation will contribute to the construction of the Institute through a campaign sponsored by The National Foundation for the Advancement of Science, Inc., a group of scientists and laymen who have formed a partnership with science to bring about the Salk polio vaccine—will again share in a great scientific venture to help man make the best of his gift of life.

FREEDOM 7 MERCURY CAPSULE TO BE SHOWN SOON

A duplicate Freedom 7 Mercury Spacecraft will be displayed in the following towns in Mississippi on the dates as shown, according to Mr. Rex L. Brown, State Advisory Chairman of the Treasury's Savings Bonds Committee.

Pasadena, July 1st 12:00 Noon to 1:00 P. M. Gulfport, July 1st 2:00 P. M. to 3:00 P. M. Jackson, July 6th 10:30 A. M. to 8:00 P. M. Meridian, July 6th 9:30 A. M. to 10:30 A. M.

The capsule is part of a Savings Bonds exhibit that has been touring the nation during the Freedom Bond Drive in May and June.

Every citizen is being asked to purchase an extra Savings Bond during this period.

The Freedom 7 Capsule is mounted on a red-white-and-blue trailer, flanked by two American flags. The public will be able to examine the spacecraft at close hand.

Mr. Brown said that the exhibit will include a public address system over which will be played tape recordings of documentary material related to America's first manned space flight, patriotic music and information about the Freedom Bond Drive.

"It is appropriate that this spacecraft be exhibited in connection with the Freedom Savings Bond Drive," Mr. Brown stated.

"Our explorations in space over the years will require substantial sums of money. The success and extent of this program ultimately rests upon a strong and growing economy. The continued sale of Savings Bonds -- and extra sales during this Drive -- is an essential ingredient of a healthy economy."

The McDonald Aircraft Corporation, which designed and built the Mercury capsules for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, donated the capsule to the Treasury Department for its Freedom Bond Drive.

The Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors is providing as a public service the truck and trailer on which the capsule is mounted, as well as drivers, display signs, and the public address system. Tour routing of the exhibit was worked out as a public service by the American Automobile Association.

DAIRYING NOW ALMOST $165 MILLION STATE BUSINESS

The total gross income from the dairy industry in 1961 amounted to almost $165 million. Of this figure, about $90 million went to the dairy farmers for the milk products and the cattle which they sold from their farms. The remainder, of course, involved the dairy plants in the state which manufactured and sold the dairy products to the consumers. The dairy farm income ranks third among all farm enterprises in Mississippi.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every nation should esteem the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Kantcha Ketchum

It has been hot, not warm these days. The thermometer has been hitting the high marks, but the fish are hitting best in the very late afternoons. Surface baits are most effective for fresh water fish.

Mayor Scaffide and son, John have been catching some nice green trout and perch.
Sylvan Ladner joined them one day last week.

"Partly cloudy, scattered showers predicted for today," has been the weather report for a number of days following the long drought just past. As far as fishing goes the waters have not been effected much by the local showers.

Cutting grass has been a pain.
Some complain either way-high grass and bad water. Can't have everything perfect.

The 177 boys attending St.
Stanislaus Summer Camp this year are having a wonderful time, fishing, boating, etc.
The program activities are under 28 brothers, all good sports, personally and as Councillors.

Sorry to hear of the death of Theodore Joseph (Teddy) Morel, who died last week. Teddy was a real sport and spent a large part of his life as a Commercial Fisherman. He knew the waters here abouts and led many to the happy fishing grounds.

Sympathy is extended to the family.

Joe Glover, Tony Enterante and Luke Elliott made a fishing trip to Lacombe, La. last Saturday. They reported making a nice catch of green trout and perch.
Rather small sized, Joe.

Met a bunch of good sports Tuesday-Burford Green of New Orleans, John Schneider, Bob Davidson, and "Boy" Leblanc operator of the B&B Bar. Fish stories were flowing as well as liquid beverages! Joe Glover was Master of Ceremonies.

Great doings are in store for those who attend the Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo this week end, June 30 through July 4th, at Gulfport, Miss. If you like fishing this is the rodeo to attend!

Pat Haggerty is visiting his grandparents this week. Pat is having a time fishing and other sports with his granddad, Dec Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Baudry and five children will spend the week with the L. S. Elliotts.

Al is enjoying part of his vacation here and expects to catch up on his fishing.

A few soft crabs and flounders are still being caught the hard way.

John Scaffide, Jr. and "Cotton" sold on sealed bid basis. The show is open to commercial hog producers, breeders and 4-H Club and FFA members.

The purpose of this show and sale is to help up-grade quality of Mississippi hogs.

Blaine reported a good catch of soft crabs. Ask John!

Anthony Protti, from Belle Chase, La. is also spending his vacation here. Likes all kinds of outdoor sports and especially fishing. He never misses a chance to go.

Bob Gray has returned to his home in Florida. Bob was Lincoln Operator at the "Eagle".
He is being replaced by Bob Groover, of Orlando, Florida.
Welcome to the Bay, Bob.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Elliott and son, Chip of Baton Rouge, accompanied by Mike Haggerty of New Orleans are leaving for Virginia and Washington Saturday. Sure they will enjoy fishing, etc. while on the trip.

Game Warden and Mrs. Nolan Ladner and son left for a short vacation trip last week, destination unknown. Look out fish!

There are numerous kinds of minnows and all are a natural fish food. The "Shiners" has proven to be the best bait for both salt and fresh water fish.
They are mostly caught in seines.

Other good baits especially for fresh water fish are crickets, grasshoppers and small green frogs.
They are easily caught and cost nothing. Lizards are an ideal bait for green trout.

The Leopard frog is one of approximately 280 North American species an ideal bait.

May through August are best months for catching hard crabs, according to reports crabs are at their best right now. If you don't know they are especially good eating when boiled, or used in salads, stuffed and in gumbo.

Jumping mullet (striped) usually travel in schools.
They may be seen with their heads above water-this is called smoking. They are an ideal seafood, especially when eaten with warm French bread. Ask someone who knows.

If you haven't planned on a place to spend the 4th, Lucien Favre's Camp on Jordan River is the spot. Boats and baits can be obtained.

QUAIL SEASON
The 1962-63 quail season in the state will be December 1, 1962, through February 8, 1963. These dates will apply to all counties in the state except five in the north and northwest section.

In the counties of Benton, De-Soto, Marshall, Trippah and Tunkca, the season will be December 1st through January 31st. The daily bag limit on quail remains the same as it has been for a number of years: Eight per day.

Dairying Importance Mississippians have good reason to reflect kindly about the many improved dairy herds and increased efficiency of dairy farmers who contribute much to the food supply and health.

Dairy farming today is one of the efficiently operated industries, and dairy cows are producing far more milk per cow than ever before. Also, dairy herds are larger, each dairy farmer is handling a larger number of cows and is producing a larger amount of milk. Milk meets many of the basic requirements of good health.

ARMY RESERVISTS PREPARE FOR TRAINING PROGRAM

Over 2,000 Mississippi Army Reservists are in various stages of preparation for their annual two-week summer training program.

The many units, scattered throughout the state, will be going to posts and stations throughout the United States for this active-duty training.

This is just one of the contin-ing phases of the United States Army in maintaining a ready, alert Reserve Force of citizen-soldiers.

The major objective of the Army Reserve program is to create a network of units consisting of trained men established in local communities throughout the nation.

The training of these units are designed to permit them to rapidly reach and maintain a state of mobilization readiness. These requirements vary from being ready for commitment immediately upon mobilization which will permit their use in time of national emergency.

The present organization within Mississippi includes infantry divisions, training commands, maneuver area commands, and numerous other types of combat, combat support, and service organizations.

Summer training for the reservists consists of two weeks training in basic, as well as advanced military subjects, each individual specializing in his particular duties.

Special schedules are set up to include day and night problems under tactical conditions or simulated combat conditions. All units are tested for proficiency and graded by an inspection team from U. S. Continental Army Command.

Although the summer training program is the highlight of the Army Reservist training, they also attend 48 weekly drill periods per year, keeping in touch with the latest in Army weapons and tactics, and especially those changes in their specialized fields.

Regular Army personnel from the guiding hand to the Reserve program in the state. In addition to their training and administrative functions, the local training centers maintain and account for millions of dollars worth of Army property.

They are also responsible for the recruitment of personnel in the Army Reserve and render assistance to members of the military establishment, their dependents, and veterans.

The U. S. Army Reservist is playing a vital role in our National Defense program. They provide a ready force of troops units, as well as pools of experienced individuals with specialized or technical background and training.

The citizen-soldiers can be called to active duty, and a minimum amount of time and money is spent in welding them into an efficient team.

WEEDING PRELUDE

Jobs of weed control in corn.
You can use atrazine as a post emergence treatment, provided you do so before the weeds are more than an inch and a half tall. Corn is highly tolerant to atrazine and the material may be applied broadcast in recommended amounts.

A-2D will do an excellent job controlling morning glories, rag-weeds, cocklebur, coffee-weeds and most other broadleaf weeds.
Apply the material to corn broadcast at one-third to one-half pound per acre in 10 to 20 gallons of water. While corn is less than 12 inches tall, after corn is 12 inches tall, do not spray broadcast. Use a drop nozzle, adjusted so as to give good coverage of weeds and get as little as possible on the corn.

Do not use A-2D on corn while it is silking and tasseling.
Controlling these weeds will help boost yields and make harvesting much easier.

CORN INSECTS

As the warm weather comes along, the corn insects become more active. The most common pest of corn is the European corn borer. This insect is a pest of corn and other crops. It is a very common pest of corn and other crops. It is a very common pest of corn and other crops.

Any newly hatched European corn borers should be controlled immediately. This can be done by spraying with a suitable insecticide. The European corn

Favre Sr., of Bay St. Louis was celebrated Saturday morning at a Nuptial Mass at 11 o'clock, in Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church, Pineville.

The Rev. Joseph Koury performed the double ring ceremony. Bill Bailey and Steno Ladner, cousins of the bride, served as altar boys.

Arrangements of white gladioli and yellow mums in gold vases decorated the altars with tall white baskets of similar blossoms on either side of the main altar. Potted palms decorated the chancel.

A design of Alencon lace embroidered in seed pearls extended from the neckline to the skirt hem. A bustle, centered with a large bow, fell into a chapel train. Her elbow length veil of illusion was attached to a crown of iridescent sequins and seed pearls.

She carried a cascade of white roses centered with yellow rose buds, entwined with a crystal rosary, a gift of her grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Clark, of Long Beach.

Her only jewelry was a pair of pearl earrings.

The cake was designed and made by the grooms mother, silver candelabra holding white tapers were on either side with yellow gladioli, mums and ferns encircling the cake.
